To the Animal Control Board Members

This report consists of management's representations concerning the finances of the Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc. Consequently, management assumes full responsibility for the completeness and reliability of all of the information presented in this report. To provide a reasonable basis for making these representations, management of the Center has established a comprehensive internal control framework that is designed both to protect the Center's assets from loss, theft, or misuse and to compile sufficient reliable information for the preparation of the Center's financial statements in conformity with GAAP. Because the cost of internal controls should not outweigh their benefits, the Center's comprehensive framework of internal controls has been designed to provide reasonable rather than absolute assurance that the financial statements will be free from material misstatement. As management, we assert that, to the best of our knowledge and belief, this financial report is complete and reliable in all material respects.

The Center's financial statements have been audited by Eddy & Eddy, CPAs, P.C., a firm of licensed certified public accountants. The goal of the independent audit was to provide reasonable assurance that the financial statements of the Center for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2010, are free of material misstatement. The independent audit involved examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements; assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management; and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. The independent auditor concluded, based upon the audit, that there was a reasonable basis for rendering an unqualified opinion that the Center's financial statements for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2010, are fairly presented in conformity with GAAP. The independent auditors' report is presented as the first component of the financial section of this report.

GAAP requires that management provide a narrative introduction, overview, and analysis to accompany the basic financial statements in the form of Management's Discussion and Analysis (MD&A). This letter of transmittal is designed to complement MD&A and should be read in conjunction with it. The Center's MD&A can be found immediately following the report of the independent auditors.

Profile of the Center

The Center, chartered as a non-profit in 1985, is designed to provide a community wide resource. The Center provides adoption and low cost spay/neuter programs and pick-up for stray and unwanted animals. In addition the Center also serves the community by investigating suspected animal cruelty, removing dead animals from roadways and private property, and educating the general public about animal care. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2010, the shelter took in 8,625 animals.

The Center operates under the board-director form of government. The board is responsible, among other things, for adopting the budget, and hiring the Center's director. The Center's director is responsible for carrying out the policies of the board, and for overseeing the day-to-day operations of the Center.

Pension and other postemployment benefits. The employees of the Center are members of the Political Subdivision Pension Plan, administered by the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System. Each year, the Center is required to contribute at an actuarially determined rate to ensure that the plan will be able to fully meet its obligations to retired employees on a timely basis.

Additional information on the Center's pension arrangements can be found in Note 7 in the notes to the financial statements.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors of
Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc.
Johnson City, Tennessee

We have audited the accompanying statement of net assets of Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc. (a Tennessee nonprofit organization) and the related statements of revenues, expenses, and changes in net assets, and cash flows as of and for the year ended June 30, 2010, which collectively comprise the Center's financial statements as listed in the table of contents. These financial statements are the responsibility of Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc.'s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

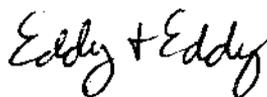

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and the significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc., as of June 30, 2010, and the changes in net assets and cash flows thereof for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated December 1, 2010, on our consideration of Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc.'s internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and should be considered in assessing the results of our audit.

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that the management's discussion and analysis and the schedule of funding progress – employee retirement system information on pages 6 through 10 and page 23 be presented to supplement the financial statements. Such information, although not a part of the financial statements, is required by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, who considers it to be an essential part of financial reporting for placing the financial statements in an appropriate operational, economic, or historical context. We have applied certain limited procedures to the required supplementary information in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, which consisted of inquiries of management about the methods of preparing the information and comparing the information for consistency with management's responses to our inquiries, the financial statements, and other knowledge we obtained during our audit of the financial statements. We do not express an opinion or provide any assurance on the information because the limited procedures do not provide us with sufficient evidence to express an opinion or provide any assurance.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements that collectively comprise Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc.'s financial statements as a whole. The introductory section and the supplemental section are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the financial statements. The schedule of functional expenses on page 24 has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements as a whole. The introductory section on pages 1 through 3 has not been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and, accordingly, we do not express an opinion or provide any assurance on it.

WASHINGTON COUNTY – JOHNSON CITY
ANIMAL CONTROL CENTER, INC.
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
JUNE 30, 2010

NOTE 1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc. was organized under the laws of the State of Tennessee in April 1985. Its Board of Directors serves as its governing body.

Significant accounting policies follow:

Basis of Accounting – The financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting where revenues are recognized when earned rather than when received and expenses are recognized when the obligation is incurred rather than when paid. The Center distinguishes operating revenues and expenses from nonoperating items. Operating revenues and expenses generally result from providing services and delivering goods in connection with the Center’s principal ongoing operations. The principal operating revenues of the Center are charges to customers for services. All revenues not meeting this definition are reported as nonoperating revenues. Operating expenses of the Center include salaries and associated taxes and benefits as well as costs of feeding and caring for the animals and maintaining the Center’s buildings, grounds, and equipment.

When both restricted and unrestricted resources are available for use, it is the Center’s policy to use restricted resources first, then to use unrestricted resources.

Reporting Entity – The Center enforces the city and state ordinances relating to animal control and animal welfare. The Center also operates an animal shelter providing adoption programs and spay/neutering programs. The Center receives funding from Johnson City, Jonesborough, and Washington County, Tennessee and must comply with the requirements of the funding source entities. However, the Center is not included in any other governmental “reporting entity” as defined by GASB pronouncements. In addition, there are no component units as defined in Governmental Accounting Standards Statement Number 14.

Estimates – The preparation of financial statements in conformity with principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents – For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Center considers all highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. The Center maintains a separate investment account for monies designated by the board for future building projects.

Investment Valuation – Investments are recorded at fair value determined by reference to published market data.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

The costs of providing the various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the schedule of functional expenses. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited.

Cash – Donor Restricted – At June 30, 2010, $35,200 of the Center’s cash was restricted by donors for the Building Fund. During the year ending June 30, 2010, there were no private donations to the Building Fund.

Property and Equipment – Property and equipment are recorded at cost for purchased items and at fair market value for donated items. Depreciation, computed principally using the straight-line method, is based on the following estimated useful lives:

Equipment and Vehicles	5 to 10 Years
Building	40 Years

Basis of Presentation – All assets, liabilities, equities, revenues, expenses, and transfers relating to the Center’s businesses are accounted for in a single proprietary fund. The Center’s financial statements are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). The Center applies all relevant Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) pronouncements and applicable Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) pronouncements and Accounting Principles Board (APB) opinions issued on or before November 30, 1989 unless they conflict with GASB pronouncements. The Center does not apply FASB pronouncements or APB opinions issued after November 30, 1989.

NOTE 2. LEASE COMMITMENTS

In June, 1986 the Center entered into a lease agreement with the City of Johnson City for land where the Animal Control building is now located. The terms of the lease are $3 per year for forty years with an option to renew for another forty years as long as the land and any structures are used for animal control purposes.

NOTE 3. INCOME TAXES

The Center is exempt from federal income taxes under the provisions of Internal Revenue Service Code Section 501(c) (3).

NOTE 4. ADVERTISING

The Organization expenses advertising costs as incurred. Total advertising expense for the year ended June 30, 2010 was $829.

Annual Pension Cost – For the year ending June 30, 2010, Washington County - Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc's annual pension cost of $20,380 to TCRS was equal to Washington County - Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc's required and actual contributions. The required contribution was determined as part of the July 1, 2007 actuarial valuation using the frozen entry age actuarial cost method. Significant actuarial assumptions used in the valuation include (a) rate of return on investment of present and future assets of 7.5 percent a year compounded annually, (b) projected salary increases of 4.75 percent (graded) annual rate (no explicit assumption is made regarding the portion attributable to the effects of inflation on salaries), (c) projected 3.5 percent annual increase in the Social Security wage base, and (d) projected post retirement increases of 3.0 percent annually. The actuarial value of assets was determined using techniques that smooth the effect of short-term volatility in the market value of total investments over a five-year period. Washington County - Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc's unfunded actuarial accrued liability is being amortized as a level dollar amount on a closed basis. The remaining amortization period at July 1, 2007 was 9 years. An actuarial valuation was performed as of July 1, 2009, which established contribution rates effective July 1, 2010.

The annual required contribution (ARC) was calculated using the aggregate actuarial cost method. Since the aggregate actuarial cost method does not identify or separately amortize unfunded actuarial liabilities, information about funded status and funding progress has been prepared using the entry age actuarial cost method for that purpose, and this information is intended to serve as a surrogate for the funded status and funding progress of the plan.

NOTE 8. BUILDING AND EQUIPMENT

The building and equipment are carried at cost, or in the case of contributed assets, at the fair market value at the time of the gift. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the respective assets. The Organization's current policy is to capitalize only those assets costing $1,500 or more with a life greater than one year. Buildings are depreciated over forty years and building improvements over ten years. Equipment is depreciated over five or seven years. The cost of maintenance and repairs is charged to expense as incurred; significant renewals and betterments are capitalized. Depreciation expense for the year ending June 30, 2010 amounted to $17,880.

REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING AND ON COMPLIANCE
AND OTHER MATTERS BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the Board of Directors of
Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc.
Johnson City, Tennessee

We have audited the statement of net assets of Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc. (a Tennessee nonprofit organization) and the related statements of revenues, expenses, and changes in net assets, and cash flows as of and for the year ended June 30, 2010, which collectively comprise Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc.'s financial statements and have issued our report thereon dated December 1, 2010. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit, we considered Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc.'s internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinions on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc.'s internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc.'s internal control over financial reporting.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control over financial reporting was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies, or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above. However, as discussed below, we identified certain deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting that we consider to be significant deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Finding 2010-1 – Organizational Structure (Repeated from the Prior Year):

Condition: The size of the Organization’s accounting and administrative staff precludes certain internal controls that would be preferred if the office staff were large enough to provide optimum segregation of duties. One internal control implemented during this fiscal year was a procedure requiring a board member to conduct quarterly reviews of invoices and cash disbursements. During cash disbursements testing, search for unrecorded property and equipment, and search for unrecorded liabilities, auditors found evidence of performance of this procedure for the second half of the fiscal year. However, both the Director and the Assistant Director have access to the financial software and its password(s), record cash receipts and prepare and deliver deposit slips to the bank, record cash disbursements and have check signing authority, and have access to bank statements and prepare bank reconciliations. The Center does not obtain canceled checks or check copies to facilitate oversight procedures.

Criteria: The Organization should provide a structure to accommodate appropriate segregation of duties and establish effective oversight procedures. Canceled checks or check copies should be obtained for all disbursements.

Cause: Proper segregation of duties is difficult to maintain because of the small office staff. The Board has not implemented comprehensive, effective oversight controls.

Effect: Because the lack of segregation of duties is not mitigated by effective Board oversight, fraud opportunities exist. Also, there is an increased likelihood that material misstatements will not be prevented or detected and corrected in a timely manner by personnel in the normal course of performing their duties.

Recommendation: As much as possible, we recommend that related job duties be delegated among personnel. A designated Board member should review bank statements and canceled checks or check copies before the employee who reconciles receives the bank statements and canceled checks or check copies. A designated Board member should also review bank reconciliations, journal entries and cash receipts. These reviews should be conducted periodically throughout the year. These reviews should be documented by the reviewer placing his/her signature or initials along with the review date on original documents reviewed. To facilitate effective oversight, we recommend that the Center obtain from the bank monthly all canceled checks, check copies, or a disc with the canceled checks saved to it.

Views of Responsible Officials: We will add reviewing reports, checks, invoices, bank statements and bank reconciliations to the quarterly Board member invoice review. As of December, 2010, we can now print cancelled checks online, and we will do so monthly and file with the bank statements.

This finding was also reported as Finding 2008-2 and Finding 2009-2 in prior years’ audit reports.

Finding 2010-2 – Evaluation and Mitigation of Risk (Repeated from the Prior Year):

Condition: There is no evidence that the Center’s management has evaluated and/or mitigated risk.

Criteria: Mechanisms should be in place to identify risks to the Center and its financial reporting objectives and to mitigate those risks to the extent practical.

Cause: The Center’s management has not documented its evaluation and mitigation of risk.

Effect: Because Board minutes do not provide evidence of management’s evaluation and/or mitigation of risk, fraud opportunities exist. Also, there is an increased likelihood that material misstatements will not be prevented or detected and corrected in a timely manner by personnel in the normal course of performing their duties.

Recommendation: We recommend that the Center’s minutes reflect management’s evaluation of risk and also reflect the establishment and implementation of internal control procedures to mitigate identified risks.

Views of Responsible Officials: Beginning with the January, 2011, quarterly Board meeting, we will place risk evaluation on agendas, and the Board’s discussions and actions will be reflected in the minutes.

This finding was also reported as Finding 2009-3 in prior year’s audit report.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc.’s financial statements are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

We noted certain matters that we reported to management of Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc. in a separate letter dated December 1, 2010.

Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc.’s response to the findings identified in our audit is described above. We did not audit Washington County – Johnson City Animal Control Center, Inc.’s response and, accordingly, we express no opinion on it.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, others within the entity, and federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
