

Joseph Woodson
Legislative Director

Joseph Woodson is the Legislative Director for the Tennessee Comptroller of the Treasury. Joseph works with each of the Office's 11 divisions and advises the Comptroller on policy and legislative matters. Joseph helps the Comptroller and Chief of Staff develop the Office's legislative package, and leads the Comptroller's Legislative Team in informing the Tennessee General Assembly on any policy issues related to the Office.

Joseph also represents Comptroller Justin Wilson on several boards including the Tennessee Student Assistance Corporation and the Complete College Tennessee Act's Funding Formula Review Committee.

Joseph previously worked as a legislative research analyst for the Comptroller's Offices of Research and Education Accountability. He also worked for the Chief Clerk of the Tennessee State Senate during the 105th General Assembly.

Joseph holds an Associate's degree from Pellissippi State Technical and Community College, and a Bachelor's degree from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville. He serves on a number of non-profit boards including the Tennessee Legal Aid Society, the Tennessee Chapter of the American Society of Public Administration, and Nashville Pride.

In his spare time Joseph enjoys reading about history, comic books, and science fiction. His coworkers know him for witty punch lines, and using his photographic memory to recall important information.
